Drastic Measures Against The Booze

Official announcement was made by the prime minister at Ottawa on Saturday of the prohibition of the importation of intoxicating liquors into Canada after Monday, 24th inst. The only exception is in the case of purchases made before that date.

The announcement reads: "On December 17th the people gave to the government an unmistakable mandate for the vigorous prosecution of the war and for the employment of all the country's resources necessary to achieve victory. It is essential and vital for the efficient conduct of the war that wasteful or unnecessary expenditure should be prohibited and that all articles capable of being utilized as food should be conserved. It is beyond question that the use of liquor affects adversely the realization of this purpose. The subject has been under consideration by the war committee of the cabinet and the following conclusions have been reached:

- (1)—Any liquor or beverage containing more than 2 1/2 per cent. alcohol shall be regarded as intoxicating liquor.
- (2)—The importation of intoxicating liquor into Canada is prohibited on and after December 21, 1917, unless it shall have been actually purchased on or before that date for importation into Canada and, unless, having been so purchased, it is imported into Canada not later than the 31st day of January, 1918. The final determination upon any question respecting such purchase shall rest with the minister of customs. This regulation shall not apply to importations for medicinal, sacramental, manufacturing or chemical purposes.

(3)—The transportation of liquor into any part of Canada wherein the sale of intoxicating liquor is illegal will be prohibited on and after April 1, 1918.

(4)—The manufacture of intoxicating liquor within Canada will be prohibited on and after a date to be determined upon further investigation, and consideration of the actual conditions of the industry.

As above mentioned, the prohibition of importation became effective on December the 24th. The regulation to carry into effect the other provisions above mentioned are being prepared, and as soon as approved they will be enacted under the provisions of the War Measures Act.

The foregoing provisions shall remain in force during the war and for twelve months after the conclusion of peace.

J. T. Hunter Killed in Auto Accident

The sad news reached town, on Sunday last of the death of James T. Hunter, well known resident of the local customs, which occurred near Aldershot on Saturday evening as a result of an auto accident. Mr. Hunter had been conducting an implement business at Clarendon, and was on the way back to Calgary to spend Sunday with his family. The car was being driven by his son, Elfred, and struck a clump of ice which caused the car to skid and turn complete turtle. Young Hunter and the other occupant, a Mr. Lewis, were quite unhurt, but it was at once seen that Mr. Hunter was very badly hurt. He was unconscious and died in a very few minutes, he having sustained a severe fracture of the skull from contact with the ice.

Mr. Hunter was widely known throughout the West. He was born in Paisley, Bruce County, Ontario, fifty-four years ago and came west with his family in 1917, locating at Calgary. He is survived by Mrs. Hunter, one son and two daughters, the eldest of the trio being about twenty-one years of age. His father, James Hunter, lives at Nanton, while three brothers, Rev. J. H. Hunter, J. F. Hunter and Harry Hunter, survive him at Coaticook, P.Q.; Blairmore, Alberta, and Regina, Saskatchewan, respectively.

J. F. Hunter left by Monday evening's train for Calgary, to attend the funeral, which took place on Wednesday afternoon from the home at Crescent Heights.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Hugh Hutton

The death reaper has claimed another victim in the person of Mrs. Hugh Hutton, of Bellevue, which occurred under extremely sad circumstances at Fernie on Monday night last. Mrs. Hutton had been spending the Yuletide with friends at Bellevue on Christmas night, but God willed otherwise and after but a brief illness she passed to the Great Beyond before the termination of her vacation. The remains were brought to Frank on Tuesday night, and interment took place Thursday afternoon from the residence of Mrs. George Coupland, sister-in-law of the deceased, to the Blairmore cemetery, Rev. W. T. Young officiating.

Mrs. Hutton was but in the prime of life and had been a resident of The Pass for a number of years. Her husband is overseas fighting side by side with four of his brothers, and will be deeply grieved to learn of the untimely demise of his beloved wife. With the bereaved relatives we join in sincerest sympathy.

Returned Veterans Are Banqueted

One of the most interesting events of the season; and indeed the most important, took place at the opera house last night, when a grand reception and banquet was tendered returned veterans by the citizens of The Pass under the direct auspices of the local branch of the Returned Soldiers' Bureau.

Supper was served to an impromptu of guests from 6 to 8:30 p.m., followed by the presentation of civic certificates on behalf of the people of the town of Blairmore to heroic veterans of the first three years of war. The presentations were made by Mr. J. E. Gillie, president of the local Bureau, who in a fitting manner expressed appreciation of the speech in which our local heroes had responded to the call of our country and empire. Among the recipients were natives of gallant little Belgium who had volunteered to go overseas without Canadian forces and do their part towards avenging the atrocities of the cruel Hun.

A programing of speeches, songs, etc., was brought to a close at 10 p.m. Tonight a grand ball will be given in honor of returned veterans, all of whom are cordially invited to be present. Excellent music has been arranged for, and a right good time is anticipated.

WE THANK our many patrons for favors shown us during the past year, and hope that the New Year will be full of Happiness and Prosperity for one and all, and trust that we may experience a continuance of your confidence in our Honest Dealings.

Food Situation is Grave

Vital Necessity of Conservation of Food Supplies and Increased Production

The latest appeal of W. J. Hanna, food controller, is worthy of attention.

Mr. Hanna's statement is as follows: "Recent developments in Europe, official correspondence and the latest crop estimates make it plain that the world food situation today is serious beyond anything that we could see a few months ago. It is with us, we are willing to make some sacrifice in our eating and rigorously to guard against waste of foodstuffs, we may find the conclusive victory of our armies endangered."

"Reports of the crops of France and Italy show that we shall be called upon to strain every effort and to conserve every ounce of food to make up the shortage of our allies. Temporary disaster has overtaken the Italian army and it will be necessary to support them to the utmost by rushing food shipments. The requirements of Great Britain will be much larger than they were last year. We must also ensure the women and children of France from terrible suffering and make certain that the shortage will not be weakened by the allied cause of essential food supplies."

"The situation is grave today and the time has come when the people of Canada must realize that the allies are depending on the continent of North America to a far greater extent than ever before. It is with the power of all of us effectively to support the efforts of our armies. The Canadian farmer has done his part by harvesting a splendid crop. Plans have been made for greater production next year. But until the harvest the only means of increasing the exportable surplus of food is for the consumer to do his duty. The fighting efficiency of the allied forces will be impaired unless Canada awakens to the seriousness of the food problem. There rests upon us a tremendous responsibility—perhaps for the very issue of the war."

She—It's lucky they did; the immigration laws are a little stricter.

Fighting Sons-of-Guns

The Canadians are Always There With the Punch

In common with a large portion of the American public, I long harbored a suspicion that the publicity Canadians were receiving for their achievements in France might possibly be explained on the ground of propaganda. That was a very unjust. Though certain crack British regiments are unsurpassed by any troops in the world, the fact is that the Canadian army, as a whole, constitutes the most formidable weapon of its size ever from this statement does not represent any valueless personal prejudice, but the opinion of military experts.

The Canadians are always there with the punch. No matter how badly mauled, they may be they come back with a kick like a Missouri mule—and you may have noticed how, often when there is a particularly hard nut to crack, they get the job done.

Even the enemy tacitly confessed their worth. After torrents of rain had temporarily halted the attack at Lens in August, German military correspondents wrote gleefully to their newspapers: "Sir Douglas Haig has discovered that even his Canadians are not the equal of the German troops."

The men from the Dominion are wonders at making the best of circumstances. They are down a bunch of Canadians on a desert land and in two weeks they'll have a football team, and the secretary would be sending challenges broadcast to the canibals of all the adjacent territory. And there would be a tug-of-war team in kilts, and a boxing bout between the lightweight champion of Winnipeg, Calgary, the Peace River valley, Rouen, and Havre, and a rival claimant who had beaten every other of his class in Iran, Three Rivers, Lachine, Calais and Etaples—George Patullo in Saturday Evening Post.

Knitting in Church

The Sunday morning sermon of Rev. L. B. Longacre, congregational minister, at Denver, Colo., is now accompanied by the merry clucking of a hundred pairs of knitting needles. Women of his congregation, unwilling to leave off their knitting during the service, have not only agreed, but assisted them to recruit members for the Sunday morning knitting class.

Sleeplessness—Sleep is the great restorer to be deprived of it is a vital loss. Whatever may be the cause of it, indigestion, nervous depression, or the trouble of a course of Parnele's Vegetable Bile. By regulating the action of the stomach, where the trouble lies, it restores normal conditions and healthful sleep will follow. Time the Enemy

We have taken our time even in our support of Britain and France. Alas for that element of time! How we have squandered it! "Ask me anything you will," said Napoleon to one of his generals, "except time." We have acted very much as if we had all the time there is. Now the swift advance of the Teutons to the eastward may for a while make our case of assistance as we can give. But our resources must not be sinned. We must actively join Great Britain and France in measures of prompt assistance.

The Dragon's Teeth

With twenty-two nations named in the compilation, it becomes evident how effectively Germany has won the dragon's teeth. That she will continue in her endeavors to complete the ancient myth by setting the armed proxy against each other is equally evident. It is the fervent hope of every citizen that this can never be done. The temporary collapse of the Russian military power is the only break. This let be hoped, when Russia gets a full taste of the Prussian methods—Kansas City Star.

The British Navy

Enemies of Germany Would Have Been Powerless Without Britain's Strong Arm

Lloyd George says that the British navy saved the entente. It has been the factor which saved the world from German domination. If German ambitions finally be reduced to the form with which the rest of the world thinks it can live, the reduction will be due to the British navy. Sea power has preserved what is preserved of the nations Germany set out to subjugate.

If the British navy had been out of the way the German navy would have controlled the sea. France would have been without sufficient coal, and without sufficient coal would have been without sufficient provisions. France would have been blockaded efficiently. No calculation can entertain the idea that French efforts, however desperate, could have prevailed against the German military effort plus a successful blockade.

The British, without a controlling navy, could not have entered the Mediterranean. Italy and Hungary would have entered. The United States could not have entered it. We could not have had the sea routes with money, supplies or men. Whatever consequences might have been in store for us as the result of a German victory we could have done nothing but sit and wait for them. The neck of the German would have been choked it. It checked the German army. It holds it in check. It holds it in check. It holds it in check. It does not have to fight. It merely has to exist—Chicago Tribune.

A Great Cattle Country

Leading Cattle Breeders Establish Herds in Alberta

One of the best testimonies of the possibilities of Alberta as a stock-breeding country is now being given by the fact that some of the best-known breeders in America are locating herds in this province for stock breeding. Among the latest to establish herds are J. D. Macgregor, of Brandon, Manitoba, and George F. Fuller, of Chicago. It is the intention of either to give up their ranches in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and to move their herds to Alberta. Mr. Macgregor has purchased two sections south of Calgary, Alberta, and will move part of his herds to Alberta in the near future. Mr. Fuller, who has a place about 20 miles south of Calgary, has already secured a portion of his herds in Alberta. Mr. Macgregor is well known throughout America as a breeder of Aberdeen Angus cattle and Suffolk sheep, and for two years in succession, in 1912 and 1913, he succeeded in carrying off the grand sweepstakes for the best beef steer at the International Live Stock Show at Chicago, with Glencairn Victor II.

Mr. Fuller intends to make Calgary his headquarters in the future and has brought some of his best cattle from his Glencairn ranch. He is of the opinion that Alberta offers a better opportunity for the live stock industry than any part of America, being particularly well adapted on account of its excellent climatic and soil conditions.

The Matter of Efficiency

Much Vaunted Efficiency in Germany Will Not Pass Close Examination

Presented Germany is the bright and shining light of scientific accuracy; and before the war she was the most efficient nation on earth, and vastly impressive to those whose investigations stop at the surface. But in Germany before the war the infant death rate was twice as high as that of France, more than twice as high as that of England, and the registration area of the United States. The infant death rate in that of Italy. The tuberculosis rate in Germany was lower than that of England. The proportion of illegitimate births in Germany was considerably higher than in England, as high as in Ireland. The number of deaths was greater in Germany than in any other country, and Gerard has told us recently that 35 per cent of the families in Berlin live in single room tenements—Chicago Journal.

Now the Vicious Circle of Neurasthenia is Formed

WHEN the nerves are overstrained by mental exertion, by accident or by shock the irritation makes rest or sleep impossible, and consequently there is no restoration of the wasted nerve force.

In its turn digestion fails, because there is lack of nervous energy to control the flow of gastric juices in the stomach and to operate the other organs of digestion.

Failing to obtain the necessary nourishment, the blood becomes thin and watery, and as a result the nerves are further starved and rendered less capable of standing the strain put upon them.

In this way is formed the vicious circle of neurasthenia or nervous prostration, and there is no magical way in which the circle may be broken up.

Overstrained Nerves, Loss of Sleep, Indigestion

The Food Cure

Mrs. George Ross, Augusta street, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "Some two years ago I was attacked with neurasthenia, or nervous prostration. I doctored with different doctors without any good results, and even took a trip to a distant city to see if I could not recuperate. But upon returning I found I was no better—in fact, I kept getting worse all the time. I had no appetite, could not sleep, and had to be helped up and down stairs. I also had terrible headaches. One day a book was left at the door telling about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I decided to try it. My folks derided the idea, but went ahead and secured a box, and before finishing that first box I could see that it was settling better. You may be sure I was delighted to find a remedy that would give me relief. I continued taking them, and recovered so thoroughly that I was able to help with the house-cleaning that spring. During my nervous collapse I had lost from 115 pounds to 90, and since my recovery have weighed as much as 115 pounds. I will keep Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house, and use them when I feel the need of them. I have recommended them to a great many people around Cornwall, as I feel that I cannot speak too highly of them."

The nerve cells are starved and must have nourishment. The blood fails to supply this want, so you must give to the blood in condensed and easily assimilated form the elements from which Nature forms new blood and new nervous energy.

This is exactly what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does, and it does it so well that no treatment for the nerves has ever met with the enormous success of this great food cure.

You can scarcely take up a newspaper without reading of someone who has been restored to health and vigor and happiness by means of this reconstructive treatment. This is Nature's way of effecting cure, and is, therefore, both certain and lasting. A little patience is required, but once the building-up process is under way you will find daily evidence that you are regaining health and the joy of living.

An Incident of War

Prussian Hopes Clinging Desperately to Delusions

Germany's success on the Italian front is of no greater consequence than the other successes she has had at widely separated points. It is not nearly so consequential and important as successes obtained by the allies, as those they are achieving right now in France and Belgium. If the Italian power of offensive is really broken, Italy will be still serviceable to the entente, for she can continue to keep many Teutonic divisions employed. Russia, politically chaotic; Rumania, driven out of half its dominions; Serbia, refusing action; All these are performing a part of value in keeping large forces of Germany, Austro-Hungarians, etc., in camps far from the point where they are essential to the kaiser. Repulses of allied arms and other results are cancelled by their successes on the western front. They mean little to anyone, but anything but success clinging desperately to the delusion that peace may come through negotiations. Germany has become a "war map" advantage. That is the thing that prolongs the war. That is what compels the allies to exert themselves more and more. A negotiated peace would be tantamount to German victory. —Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Sheep on Forest Reserves

Forest Reserves of British Columbia Provide Pasture for Prairie

Thirty-five thousand head of sheep went from Alberta's prairies to the forest reserves of British Columbia this year. They were shipped under the auspices of the provincial government, the flocks went in as an experiment, because of the shortage of pasture in Southern Alberta districts. Special railway rates were granted, and the owners paid the government seven cents per head per month for pasture.

The experiment has proved very satisfactory, according to W. S. Stevens, livestock commissioner. The grass was excellent and there was no more danger from coyotes or other wild animals than there is experienced on the open prairie. The loss from this source is reckoned at one-half of one per cent. The lambs did remarkably well, they were afforded shade under the trees in which to lie after they had had their meals.

With the construction of better loading facilities at shipping points, and still more satisfactory arrangement with the railway company, it is expected that at least 50,000 sheep will go to the forests around the Crow's Nest next summer. There is room on this one reserve for 100,000.

Women as Soldiers
Men Excel in Endurance by Reason of Inheritance

Dr. Dudley Sargent says that a woman can never become a physical hardship than a man, and that she has not got far away from the average. There is a difference, but it is a good difference. Dr. Sargent is in his premises and his conclusion is based on the facts.

Women stand pain and suffering more than men, but hardship, camp and trench involves more than that. It involves powers of endurance, which men excel because of several things, one of which is Dr. Sargent's theory of inheritance.

Parkman's physician of the American army says that the common observation is that the primitive sticks out with equal force in the civilian state.

Fighting is primitive business. It has been the rule of war, and it is still an atavistic impulse. Men began it, and they have not yet learned to organize and discipline. But it is still an atavistic impulse.

ANY CORN LIFTS OUT, DOESN'T HURT A BIT
No foolishness! Lift your corns and calluses off with fingers.
It's like magic!

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn, can harmlessly be lifted right out with the fingers if you apply upon the corn a few drops of freestone, says a Cincinnati authority.

For little cost one can get a small bottle of freestone at any drug store, which will positively rid one's feet of corns and calluses without pain.

This simple drug dries the moment it is applied and does not even irritate the skin while applying it or afterwards.

This announcement will interest many of our readers. If your druggist hasn't any freestone, tell him to surely get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.

The Overseas Tongue
Accents of Mystery to London Scribe

One of my correspondents is puzzled by the accents of our soldiers from Canada, Australia, New Zealanders, he reports, talk the most flagrant Cockney, and focus of the accent in British air before the war; and the issue of the Canadians with a well-defined Scottish brogue, he suggests, is that all these cases, he suggests, the accent and idiom are acquired from emigration, and the soldiers are not only in retaining but in emphasizing the dialect of their native lands.

Not a word of the soldiers have even a working knowledge of Scottish Gaelic. But how in each of these cases do the accents and peculiarities manage to survive when, we know, even a provincial "burr" gradually fades when the soldier brings it to London?—Westminster Gazette.

Finding Enemy U-Boats
Locating Device Improved After 40,000 Suggestions

Important progress has been made in the problem of locating submarines, after which their destruction is a comparatively simple matter, Secretary Daniels said, in a statement at Washington, discussing the 40,000 separate suggestions, plans or models of devices submitted to the naval committee of the House of Representatives entered the war against Germany.

The idea that the submarine will be overcome by a miraculous invention is not now seriously considered, Secretary Daniels said. The secret of intimate knowledge the civilian obtains on this subject, the more convincing the evidence, is that the submarine is being hunted down by the weapon of which he is most afraid, the sonar. The sonar is a device, equipped with all the latest scientific devices and typified in the modern torpedo boat destroyer. Foreign naval authorities have frankly stated their admiration of the degree of perfection of American designs.

Cannot Forgive or Forget
To forgive and forget the horrors that have accompanied German colonial methods would be as futile as forgiving the sins of a murderer of a tiger or forgetting what are his predatory propensities. If any colonizing power is to make the most of the cruel days of Assyrian deportations, has shown itself unworthy of being trusted with the control of the world's races it is Germany.
